HAROLD'S MOTHER:

Harold is down at the garage.

He has a new car, and he's just been tuning it up.

He's very mechanical.

EDITH:

What kind of car is it?

HAROLD'S MOTHER:

It's a little Jaguar.

EDITH:

Oh.

Looks like a hearse.

Very nice. You know, compact.

HAROLD'S MOTHER:

Edith, I'd like you to meet my son, Harold.

Harold, this is Edith...

EDITH:

Phern.

HAROLD'S MOTHER:

Phern.

EDITH:

Very pleased to make your acquaintance.

HAROLD'S MOTHER:

I think you should go and wash up, dear...and join us in the drawing room.

And what do you do, my dear?

EDITH:

I'm a file clerk at Harrison Feed and Grain.

HAROLD'S MOTHER:

Well, what is it exactly that you do?

EDITH:

I'm in charge of all the invoices for the southwest.

HAROLD'S MOTHER:

How interesting.

EDITH:

And we supply, for example, most of the egg farmers in Petaluma.
So you can imagine.

HAROLD'S MOTHER:

Yes...

Oh, here's Harold now.

Don't get up, dear.

Edith has been talking about her job.

EDITH:

I'm a file clerk.

HAROLD'S MOTHER:

Henderson Feed and Grain.

EDITH:

Harrison.

Harrison Feed and Grain.

It's at Hamilton and Fourth...and I'm in charge of all the invoices.

I type up the schedule for the trucking fleet.

HAROLD'S MOTHER:

She supplies the whole southwest with chicken feed.

EDITH:

Well, not exactly the whole southwest...

although we do do a large business.

Barley was very big last week.

Fifteen hundred... bushels.
