- grammar points: a few, so few, very little, may have done, superlative, comparative, mixed conditional, both, will, would, can, could, never, let's, let me
 - phrasal verbs: mail in, send in, come across, get, get back to someone, pay off, judge on, based on, lock in
 - idioms: how are you doing? back, penny stocks, upside potential, down side risks, ring a bell, Well, just, actually, really, very, cutting-edge, high-tech, out of the midwest, right now, trades over the counter, a share, by the way, a heck of, upwards of, mortgage, even, this market, we are looking at a grand-slam homerun, sound, hey, vote of confidence, man, B' bye

JORDAN:

Hello, John, how are you doing today?

You mailed into my company a post card a few weeks back requesting information on penny stocks that had huge upside potential with very little down side risks.

Does that ring a bell?

JOHN:

Oh, yeah, I may have sent something in.

JORDAN:

Okay, great. Well, the reason for the call today, John, is..something just came across my desk, John, it is perhaps the best thing I've seen in the last 6 months.

If you have 60 seconds, I'd like to share the idea with you, you got a minute?

JOHN:

Actually, I'm really very busy....

JORDAN:

The Name of the company...Aerotyne International, it is a cutting-edge, high-tech firm, out of the midwest awaiting imminent patent approval on a next-generation of radar detectors that have both huge military and civillian applications.

Now, right now, John, the stock trades over the counter at 10 cents a share.

And by the way, John, our analysts indicate it could go a heck of a lot higher than that. Your profit, on a mere $ 6,000 investment, would be upwards of $ 60,000 dollars.

JOHN:

Jesus! That's my mortgage, man.

JORDAN:

Exactly. You could pay off your mortgage.

JOHN:

This stock will pay off my house?

JORDAN:

John, one thing I can promise you, even in this market, is that I never ask my clients to judge me on my winners,
I ask them to judge me on my losers, because I have so few.
And in the case of Aerotype, based on every technical factor out there, John, we are looking at a grand-slam homerun.

JOHN:

Okay, let's do it. I'll do $ 4 grand.

JORDAN:

4 thousand, that'll be 40 thousand shares, John.
Let me lock in that trade right now, and get back to you with my secretary with an exact confirmation, sound good, John?

JOHN:

Yeah, that sounds good.

JORDAN:

Great. Hey, John, thank you for your vote of confidence.
And welcome to the Investor Center.

JOHN:

Yeah, thanks a lot, man.

JORDAN:

B' bye.
