JORDAN:

But the way I looked at it, their money was better off in my pocket. I knew how to spend it better.

DONNIE:

Excuse me. Is that your car in the lot?

JORDAN:

Yeah.

DONNIE:

It's a nice ride.

JORDAN:

Thanks, man.

DONNIE:

Donnie Azoff.

JORDAN:

Hey. I'm Jordan Belfort.

DONNIE:

Nice to meet you.

JORDAN:

How you doing?

DONNIE:

You know, actually, I see that car around. I see it around a lot.

JORDAN:

Oh, yeah, where?

DONNIE:

I think we live in the same building.

JORDAN:

No shit?

DONNIE:

Yeah, yeah. Twelfth floor?

JORDAN:

Yeah. What floor are you on?

DONNIE:

Fourth floor.

I have four little kids.

JORDAN:

Right.

DONNIE:

Ugly wife.

JORDAN:

Yeah...

DONNIE:

What do you do, bro?

JORDAN:

What do you mean, what do I do?

DONNIE:

For work, what do you do?

JORDAN:

I'm a stockbroker.

DONNIE:

Stockbroker?

JORDAN:

Yeah.

DONNIE:

Children's furniture.

JORDAN:

Oh, good for you.

DONNIE:

It's all right.

You make a lot of money?

JORDAN:

Yeah, I do all right for myself.

DONNIE:

I'm trying to put it together...

You got your fucking nice car, we live in the same building.

I just...I'm not understanding...

How much money do you make?

JORDAN:

I don't know...70 thousand last month.

DONNIE:

Get the fuck...Get the fuck out of here.

JORDAN:

No, I'm serious.

DONNIE:

Yeah, no, I'm serious, too.

Seriously, how much money do you make?

JORDAN:

I told you...70 thousand.

Well, technically, 72 thousand last month.

Something like that.

DONNIE:

You made 72 grand in one month?

JORDAN:

Yeah.

DONNIE:

I'll tell you what...

You show me a pay stub for 72 thousand on it,

I'll quit my job right now and I'll work for you.

...

Hey, Paulie, what's up?

No, yeah, yeah...everything's fine.

Hey, listen...I quit.

JORDAN:

And he did quit his job.
