THE DUDE:

Two oat sodas, Gary.

GARY:

Right. Good luck tomorrow.

THE DUDE:

Yeah, thanks, man.

GARY:

I was sorry to hear about Donny.

THE DUDE:

Oh, yeah. Well, you know, sometimes you eat the bear, and sometimes, you know...Hey, man.

THE STRANGER:

How do you do, Dude?

THE DUDE:

I wondered if I'd see you again.

I wouldn't miss the semis.

THE DUDE:

Oh, yeah?

How's things been going?

THE DUDE:

Well, you know, strikes and gutters, ups and downs.

THE STRANGER:

Sure. I got you.

THE DUDE:

Yeah. Thanks, Gary. Well, take care, man. Gotta get back.

Sure. Take it easy, Dude.

THE DUDE:

Oh, yeah.

THE STRANGER:

I know that you will.

THE DUDE:

Yeah. Well, the Dude abides.

THE STRANGER:

The Dude abides. I don't know about you, but I take comfort in that.
It's good knowing he's out there, the Dude, taking her easy for all us sinners.
I sure hope he makes the finals.

Well, that about does her. Wraps her all up.

Things seem to have worked out pretty good for the Dude and Walter.

And it was a pretty good story, don't you think?

Made me laugh to beat the band.

Parts anyway.

I didn't like seeing Donny go.

But then I happen to know that there's a little Lebowski on the way.

I guess that's the way the whole darned human comedy keeps perpetuating itself down through the generations.

Westward the wagons, across the sands of time until we...

Oh, look at me. I'm rambling again.

Well, I hope you folks enjoyed yourselves.

Catch you later on down the trail.

Say, friend, you got any more of that good sarsaparilla?
